Election/Restrictions

- 1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-5, drawn to User profile, classified in class 711, subclass 126.
 - II. Claims 6-10 and 17-18, drawn to client/server communication, classified in class709 subclass 206.
 - III. Claims 11-12, drawn to electronic mail, classified in class 709, subclass 206.

 - VI. Claims 23-25, drawn to public and private cache, classified in class 711, subclass 126.
- 2. Inventions I –VI are related as combination disclosed as usable together in a single Combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations. (M.P.E.P. 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for each group is different, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. These inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II and the search required for Group II is not required for Group I. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-VI are related as sub-combination disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The sub-combinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such maintaining a plurality of user profiles which reflect different personae of the user; invention II is communication and storage between devices; Invention III is organizing e-mail messages including a source identification; Invention IV is a billing and payment system; Invention V is a method of gaining access to a vehicle and Invention VI is drawn to public and private cache. See M.P.E.P.
